

Directus

Directus

Directus is our content management system (CMS), see Directus in the common articles. It is effectively the database management system for everything that may need to be changed by the committee or commissions, from the website (including Game*'s) through event inscriptions. Directus is separate from anything regarding authentication or Nextcloud.

User management

A user is created automatically when someone tries to log in with KeyCloak. By default, they do not have a role and therefore no access to anything. Roles are non-cumulative and can be set in the users tab.

The users panel is also how we can generate tokens for services such as Roboclic.
